INTRODUCTION:

Why Women SEEM Confusing, and How To Read Them Like A Book With 100% Confidence

I say this all the time...

WOMEN ARE COMPLICATED!

And I'm sure you can agree.

But the truth is that women SEEM complicated, because they operate on different rules than men.

Which brings us to this guide... The Chick-tionary: A Man's Guide To Know What Women REALLY Mean

You see, while women are more aware of their feelings and more comfortable expressing those feelings...

They tend to send mixed messages when they don't wanna hurt YOURS.

Women are socially primed to be polite, accommodating creatures of society...because otherwise they'd be called "a bitch!"

I have one girlfriend who was at a bar one night talking to a guy...

After awhile he asked for her number and she said, "Oh sorry I'm not interested...but thank you!"

And you know what happened while she was walking away? He screamed out at her in front of the entire bar, "Well fuck you then you stupid slut!"

Can you believe that?!

I actually have another friend who was talking to this guy for just over half an hour. No touching, flirting or leading on, just talking.

As she was leaving he said "hey, where are you going? Give me your number so I can take you out sometime." My friend turned to him and said "I'm sorry if I gave you the wrong idea. As I said in the beginning of our conversation, I have a boyfriend.”

And you know what that guy did??

He punched her in the face. I’m being dead serious.

Now this example is much more extreme and hopefully doesn’t happen often but it explains why women do NOT wanna piss off the wrong guy!

On the OTHER hand...they ALSO don’t wanna come off as the sexual aggressors.

They’re EQUALLY conditioned to be the sexually prudent type that waits for the men to make the moves...because otherwise they’d be called “easy.”

One of the biggest female fears is that guys will lose interest and get lost if the girl shows TOO MUCH interest...

In fact, me and my friends spent SIX HOURS one night trying to “figure out” why the guy she liked was “playing games,” only to find out that she had turned him down THREE TIMES when he tried taking her out!

To which, she explained that, “Well I can’t seem too eager or like I’m waiting around for him!”

Women, right? ;-)

Now for these 2 reasons...there’s gossip and Girls Night!

To shed some light on some of the female phrases that you’re completely in the dark over... I’m gonna lay out the REAL meaning of everything you hear from a woman that makes you go, “Huh?”

So that you can finally understand what she means, what you can do, and how to avoid getting confused from here on out.

Once your done reading this guide you will be able to translate her mixed signals, know exactly how and when to make your move, or cut your losses and move on (which often gets her chasing you anyway).

Female Phrases and Words Decoded

Here is how and why the Chick-tionary got created. I am a Wing Girl and I tell men how to attract women so they can date, seduce and get the women they want, even if they are already in a relationship. Thousands of men, come to me for advice on how to get the girl and keep the girl through my website <http://www.winggirlmethod.com>.

I posed the question “what are the top things women do and say that confuse and frustrate you?”, to those who are members of my site.

I sent out this email right before sitting down to dinner and when dinner was over I already had over 400 emails from guys.

Then by the next morning, I had over 1000 replies filled with scenarios, phrases and actions that women do that are misunderstood by men.

I went through every email, over 3 months, to answer all your questions, and give you a resource you can use for the rest of your life, to decode the women you want.

Here are the most common words and phrases that confuse men. I categorized them into themes, or phrases that are saying the same thing with different words.

1. “You're really nice guy... but...” – “You don't get my juices flowing!!!”
This means she doesn't see you that way. Doesn't mean you can't turn things around but you'll have to change your approach with her.
2. She starts telling you all about her and her husband/boyfriend –
Depends on the exact situation, but typically when a woman is talking with you and she brings up her husband, it's her way of saying “I'm taken. I enjoy talking to you. This is just friendly talk,” and by you sticking around to talk with her it's your way of saying “Totally get it that you are taken. I won't think this can be something else other than friendly conversation.”

3. “I am seeing someone,” or “I am dating someone,” and still asks to hang out. – Because she wants to be clear that this is a friendship dinner. Women can be friends with men, so this is her saying “I hope you understand what this time together means. FRIENDS. So don’t try anything.”
4. She says yes to everything but she flakes in the end. – She doesn’t want to tell you no because she doesn’t want to be mean. If she does it more than 3 times (which is still too many times) she’s not into you.
5. A woman flirts with you but then talks to other guys. – She’s having fun and working the room. If she’s really flirting with you and keeps coming back to you after she talks to other guys, she’s trying to show you what a commodity she is and that others want her so hop on it! VERY GOOD THING! She’s trying to show her value. Big flirting sign.
6. Call her after text to have a real conversation and she doesn’t answer but responds by texting you back. – I interviewed my sister on this topic and a ton of other women and they all said the same thing. “I love it when a guy shows he can call me but there is no way in hell I’m gonna answer the phone. That’s too scary!!!” In today’s world people are a little fearful of talking on the phone and texting is much more comfortable. So if these women are still texting you, giving you more than 1 word responses and agreeing to meet you and then actually going... they’re still into you. You can tease them about being afraid of the phone.
