1. WOMEN ARE MORE ATTRACTED TO PERSONALITY THAN LOOKS

Contrary to popular belief, women are MORE attracted to a man's personality than his looks. Well, maybe not in the first five seconds of interaction, since looks are all a woman can use to make an assessment. But something interesting happens once a man opens his mouth and reveals his character. His face starts to morph. A tall, dark and handsome man can instantly become unattractive while an average looking man can spark butterflies in a woman's stomach.

2. WOMEN ARE ATTRACTED TO NICE GUYS NOT BAD BOYS

Not sure which moron started this rumor that women like bad boys and detest dating nice guys. Do you think women sit around with their girlfriends and say "Jenny, what's wrong with me? Why can't I find some arrogant, unreliable jerk to treat me poorly, manipulate me and make me feel unworthy?" Women want to date a NICE GUY. A nice guy, with a strong backbone, not a bad boy.

3. FEELING INCREASED LEVELS OF FEMININE ATTRACTION

Masculine does not mean an aggressive, manly bonehead. It means a male with a strong core and the ability to be calm, cool, collected, comfortable and confident. A male that can take the lead, go after what he wants and is able to say NO.

When a male is his most masculine self, it allows a woman to feel like her most feminine self. AND when a woman feels like her most feminine self, she experiences a heightened level of attraction.

4. LEADERS ALWAYS PREVAIL

Women LOVE it when a man can take the lead because it translates into "this man can take care of me, protect me and provide safety". When you lead, you take the pressure off of a woman to make sure things are in order. Start making clear decisions in your everyday life.

5. WOMEN WANT TO BE APPROACHED

Every day, I get to hear a million and one different reasons from men as to why they cannot approach a woman. The number one reason being: "She probably doesn't want to be approached. I don't want to bother her.” LISTEN UP MEN! We want to be approached. We want to be hit on. Why? Because, we want the opportunity to meet a great guy we may connect with. Be it for a night, a week or forever.

6. IF YOU DON'T APPROACH, YOU BECOME CREEPY

I have so many men that I have worked with who tell me about this woman they have been smiling at for three months. As a woman, I can tell you one day of smiling is nice, two days is cute and mysterious but anything past three days is just damn creepy. The longer you wait, the more we start getting the heebie-jeebies.

7. IT'S NOT WHAT YOU SAY, IT'S HOW YOU SAY IT

Line up ten men and have them say the same 'successful' pickup line to a woman. Do you think this woman will be attracted to all ten men? Not a chance. She will be attracted to the man that said the line the right way, backed up by presence, intention and character.

8. IF YOU ASK TO BE OUR FRIEND, WE'LL MAKE YOU OUR FRIEND, FOREVER

If you want to date a woman, don't ASK to be her friend, ASK her out. Be direct and state your intentions. The ONLY way to get what you want is by asking for it. The worst that can happen is she says "No".

9. IF WE WANT YOU, WE'LL MAKE IT HAPPEN

I want to let you know that women do not flake on plans with men they want to be with. They flake on plans with men they have no intentions of ever hanging out with. For women, it's easier to say yes to a date, than to say no to your face and potentially hurt your feelings. This is a very selfish act that stems from the need to avoid discomfort. Don't hate her for it, feel bad for her.

10. WOMEN DON'T TEST MEN FOR SPORT

In fact, 'testing' or 'manipulation' as many men refer to it, has NOTHING to do with men at all. Testing/manipulation occurs when a woman feels extreme anxiousness and insecurity. It is typically due to her inability to self-soothe and calmly state her needs.

TIP: Handle the tension, show her you care and never call her crazy! Trust me, if you ask for crazy, she'll show you crazy.

11. WOMEN WANT SEX JUST AS MUCH AS MEN, IF NOT MORE

Oh yes we do! Sex is fun and it feels good, why wouldn't we want it? Women crave sensuality and the ability to be released. What we fear is being used, judged and taken advantage of. If you can help a woman feel safe and in control of her own sexuality, you will unlock a sexual beast.
